You know you want to write a book...you may have even decided what it's going to be about, who your readers will be, how your book will tell your story, help your business, and help other people...but you just can't seem to find the time, the words, the motivation to get it done. You know you want to be an author. So what's stopping you from starting, or finishing and publishing that book of yours?

Do one of the following reasons (aka excuses) sound a little too familiar?

- I have no clue how to even begin writing a book.

- I'm not sure if what I want to write will really be what readers want to read.
- I've actually started writing my book but feel stuck.
